Many of Mrs. Tout's hours are spent in preparation of tapes for the language lab.

Between classes, María Beatriz and Mrs. Tout pause to enjoy "cafe" in the teachers' lounge.

Sounds of Español have come daily from Room 28 for many years.

Service Back-up Mrs. Tout's Teaching

There are many people who work to make our high school career a more worthwhile and beneficial experience. Among them is a teacher who is worthy of recognition by the entire student body. Thus, it is with deep appreciation that the staff of the Greywolf '67 will tell you about Mrs. Margaret Tout, to whom we have dedicated the 1967 yearbook.

In 1957, when Mrs. Tout began teaching in Sequim, she taught Spanish and Latin. Now her schedule is more specialized. She has progressed to meet the needs of the students, teaching five Spanish classes a day, on three different levels. Although we are in her class only once a day, Mrs. Tout spends many hours in preparation of our lessons. Besides the time spent in the educational field, she participates in church and choir activities. Her deep devotion to her profession, and her sincere attitude toward her students has more than justified our acknowledgment in the Greywolf '67 of Mrs. Margaret Tout.

As the years pass,
each of us grows and matures through the many situations which we encounter.

Each different experience adds to our knowledge,
our maturity,
and most important,
our progress.

Our progress is affected by each and every thing in which we participate—
homelife, community work, church, and school.

School is a great contribution, or detriment to a teen-ager's progress.

But,
what is progress to the student?

learning to drive
... following the fads ... slaving
to produce a perfect play ... making the honor roll ... planning for the future ...
learning from past mistakes ...
facing a problem and overcoming it.

But more than all these,
progress is victory,
the illuminating light which shines
on a goal fulfilled.

CLASSES

A class's progress is determined by the effort each member expends for his class. A class can be thought of as a group of industrious, hardworking kids, or, as lazy, shiftless children.

Which will yours be?

It will be your individual effort which makes your class the "greatest!"

Discussing ideas for the year's activities, Sophomore Class officers, Alan Millet, president; Trudi Gault, secretary; Mike Tennesand, treasurer; and Roxie Trotter, representative; consider plans.

Class of '68 Presents "Grecian Gardens"

"Grecian Gardens" was the theme chosen for the prom by the Junior Class. A large statue of a Grecian Goddess and a parthenon, painted on the wall, added to the theme. The assorted committees worked diligently in order to get the decorations ready for the night of April 29. General Chairman Donna DeNoma, and Decorations Chairman Becky McClurken, put in many hours of preparation. Tones of blue, grey and black were accompanied by subtle lighting to create a dusk-like effect. A seventeen piece band added to the atmosphere and was enjoyed by the many couples who attended the Class of '68, Junior Prom.

Attaching ivy to Grecian pillars was one of the last minute preparations before the prom.

Nearing prom time, Debbie Keeting and Roger Hull make final preparations of the tables.

Donna DeNoma, general chairman; Cathy Brownfield, Becky McClurken, decorations chairman; and Royden Robb, add final touches to the statue.

A Grecian Goddess formed the centerpiece and focal point of the decorations.

both the play and the dance.

General chairman, Laurie Teitzel, directs last minute decorating for "Winter Wonderland".

Presentation of the play, Luxury Cruise, and sponsorship of the senior dance frequently kept some members of the class of '67 at school until late hours. The play depicted life on a ship through the eyes of a young couple, two old maids, and a successful lawyer and his wife. The work of the students was well rewarded by the large audience, which helped make the play a success for the actors, directors, and stage crew.

Close on the heels of the play came "Winter Wonderland," the senior dance. A small frozen pond, and a snowman helped set the mood of the dance. The sextet added to this atmosphere with wintry songs at intermission.

Senior Class President, Gale Turton, and Mr. Schade, advisor, make plans for the Senior Parent Banquet, with chairman, Laurie Teitzel.

The Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty Seven.

Graduation Heralds an End and a Beginning

June 5, 1967 closed the doors of high school to the class of 1967, and opened the doors to many new and varied opportunities. The Seniors ended their high school days with the traditional awards assembly, and moveup day, Senior-Parent Banquet, and Baccalaureate. Yet, Graduation and the parent sponsored Senior Cruise marked the beginning of a new way of life for all the graduates of Sequim High School. For the high school the remembrances of the class of '67 will not be just their colors of turquoise and mint green, their flower - the carnation, or their motto, "Today we follow - tomorrow we lead." For at least a few years classmates and faculty members will remember the class of '67 as truly an outstanding group of Seniors.

Baccalaureate added a solemn, yet encouraging note to Graduation festivities.

Graduation=

Excitement,

Elation,

Exhaustion

Seniors took time and effort to honor their parents, with the traditional Senior Parent Banquet.

Varied expressions greeted final possession of the long-awaited diplomas.

Many parents, teachers, relatives and friends passed through the "kissing line" in order to congratulate graduates.

Academics and Faculty

We try to publish an annual that will record the year's activities and memories. Included are pictures of clubs, activities, honors and events.

But, we often squeeze the most important aspect of our high school into a few pages labeled faculty. This year we are going to put the faculty with you, the student, in hopes that you will remember a little of your education.

Administration Promotes New School

Plans for Sequim's new high school were evaluated by Mr. Everett Lindaas, Superintendent, and Mr. Verstegen, Principal.

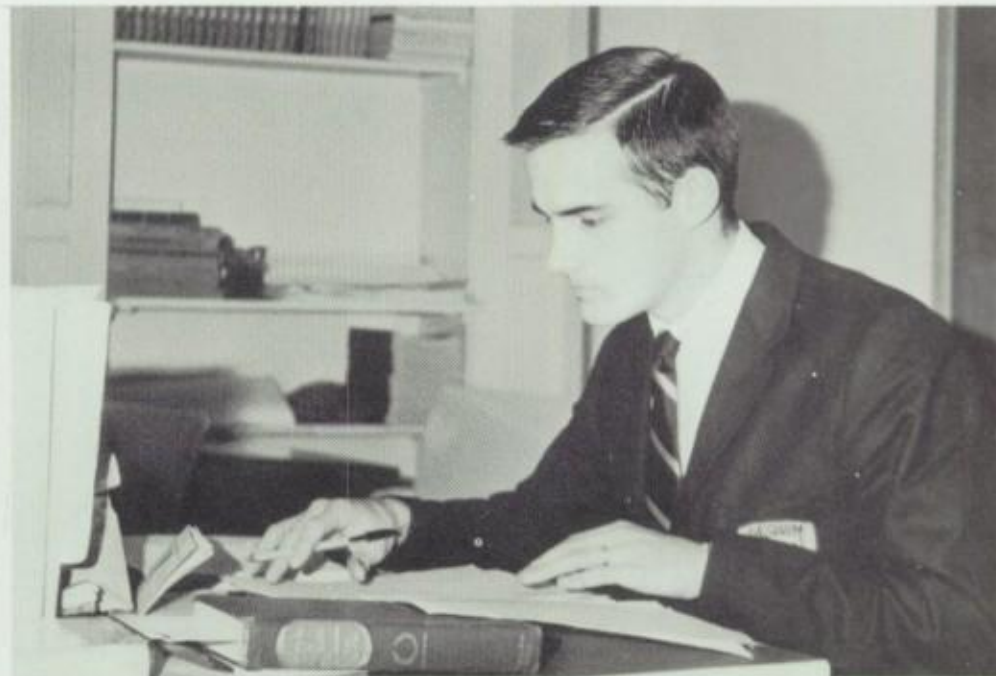

At right: Mrs. Mills, secretary; Mrs. Whitney, clerk

Sequim School Board

Dr. Don Corlett, Chairman, Jerry Anguili, James Babcock, John Kirner, Seymour Howard.

Mr. Riehl (English, Journalism) examines a story before its appearance in the "Review".

Mrs. Binns (English) engages in a discussion of English with a fellow teacher.

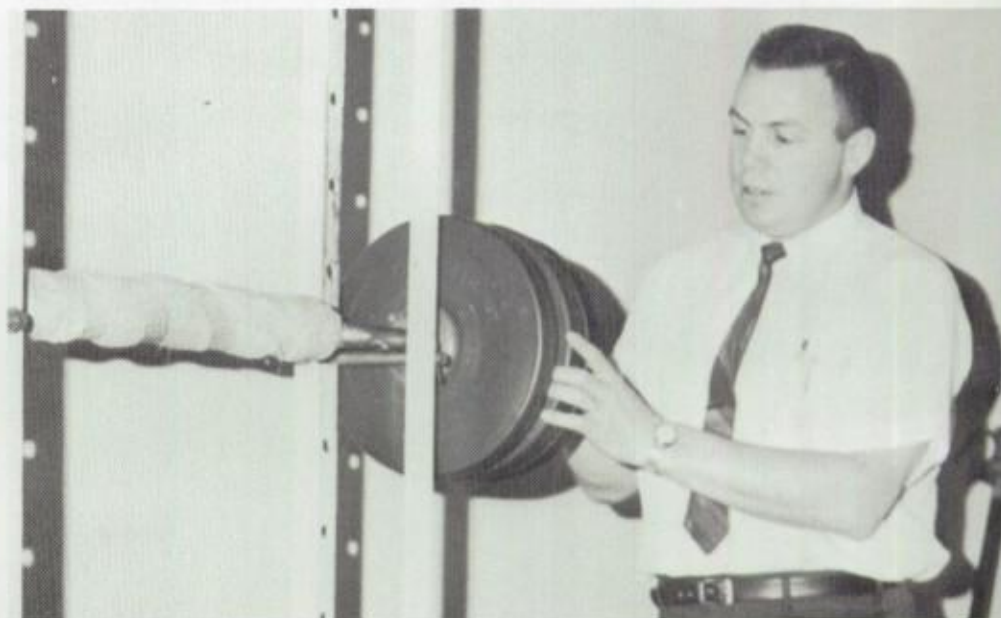

Team Teaching Tried in English Dept.

With his ever-present coffee cup and expressive gestures, Mr. Nash (English, Speech) attempts to convey a new interpretation.

Increased emphasis was placed on social studies this year. Mr. McGuire (World Problems, World History, and U. S. History) and Mr. Schade (Counselor, and World Problems) look over new text books.

Examining new weight training equipment, Mr. Harriman (Boy's P.E., U.S. History) considers its use in P.E.

Activities and Organizations

For some of us school is nothing but classes and studies. But, for many of us there is a broader spectrum of events connected with school. There are even a few who sometimes forget that school offers anything but activities and organizations. It is the few dedicated workers-not always the leaders-which keep the many organizations and events of our high school running smoothly.

Student Council Business Includes: Scoreboard, Stereo, Student Court

Student council, this year, was comprised of Brenda Smith, Sandy York, Robyn Johnson, Linda Gustafson, Mike McCrorie, Alan Millet, Steve Smith, Ed Flick, Gale Turton, Danny Smith, Laurel Brown, Pam Livingston, Roxie Trotter, Sherry Wood, Linda Matthews, Laurie Teitzel, Gloria Cerruti, and Dave Tweter, in addition to the ASB officers.

The student council, representing all members of the high school, agreed to meet at two week intervals to discuss business concerning the ASB of Sequim High School. One of the many student council activities this year was the presentation of a school bond issue assembly. Student speakers informed the student body about the needs and the necessity of a bond issue. In other business, the student council purchased a stereo for use by the music department and for pep dances, and also purchased a new football scoreboard. Toward the end of the year, a student court was instituted on a trial basis for the business law class and a beautification plan for the school grounds was considered.

Editor, Laurie Teitzel, and advisor, Mr. Schlaffman plot to "fool the publisher and meet the deadline."

What organization works the hardest, makes the most mistakes, has the most fun? The annual staff, of course. At least we think so. Many hours, many tears, and many shouts, (of joy and disgust), go into the management and production of one annual, the Greywolf '67. But, through the efforts of layout planners, copy writers, activity and organization people, sports staff, salesmen and their managers, and the all-around "guidance" of the editor and her assistant, the annual gets finished on time and delivered into the hands of its worst critics ---- you, the students.

Homecoming Spirit Reigned Over Festivities

Scrambling Wolves endeavor in vain to edge out Bainbridge.

Homecoming 1966 was something different for nearly everyone. It was hard work for the committees; it was disappointing for the players; and for the Sophomores, it was the first year of actual participation. There were new activities this year to build school spirit, and make Homecoming fun for everyone. The football players were given the "honor" of participating in a prettiest leg contest. Stomp Spartans Day featured a "Funny Feet" contest, in which many students took part. Prizes were awarded at the Pep Assembly, the last activity prior to the game.

Breathlessly, Cheerleaders try to inspire enthusiasm for Friday's "Big Game" at the Pied Piper Assembly.

These were just a few of the "funny feet" we saw tramping around the school on Stomp Spartans Day.

Upon the coaches' insistence the team was chauffeured to save their strength.

Seniors in Honor Society gave an assembly on their various summer experiences.

Field Trip Highlighted Honor Society Activities

Honor Society officers: Danny Smith, president; Robyn Johnson, vice-president; Emily Eccles, secretary; and Wayde Watters, treasurer.

Honor Society members discussed tentative plans for their annual field trip.

The first on the list of the National Honor Society's activities was an assembly featuring a talk about the glaciers in our area. During the sports seasons, the students were busy selling popcorn and candy to raise money for the scholarships they award annually. Spring events included the Senior assembly, the Initiation Dinner, and selling popcorn at the festival. The reward for all the work done by the students came in the spring, when they took a field trip to the Hoh Rain Forest and LaPush.

Roger Hull started the season off with his affirmative speech on Military aid.

Should the foreign-aid program of the United States be limited to non-military assistance? This is the question that faced the debate team this year. During hours of preparation, and eight Olympic League debates, this question was discussed thoroughly and opinions formed. Since our team was handicapped by having debate as an extra-curricular activity, preparations are being made for a debate class next year.

The Sequim High School Marching Band

Prestige on Olympic Peninsula

The Girls' Sextet provided entertainment for many school activities.

What the Sequim High School Band lacked in size, it made up for in spirit and sound. Traditionally, the band presented its winter concert shortly before Christmas. In order to help support the band uniform fund, the band played at all home football and basketball games. During half-time the band presented "patterns in motion," variations on drills. In the spring, the marching band was able to participate in three Olympic Peninsula parades. The triumph of their efforts was a trip to the Queen's Day parade in Victoria, B.C. The Band members were able to tour Victoria, stay at the Red Lion Inn, and enjoy a banquet climaxing the year. Honors presented at the banquet went to Brenda Smith--John Phillip Sousa, Donna DeNoma, and Breta Smith Junior Awards.

SHS Features New Organization: FBLA

Future Business Leaders of America "united" and "incorporated" as a new organization in SHS. Under the guidance of Mr. Lisk and Mr. Schlaffman, the business department was able to promote and organize this new club. Even though FBLA didn't get under way until the middle of the year they were able to hold an initiation program and sponsor a school store. The school store, which sold supplies in the morning and at noon, was not only prosperous, but advantageous to buyers, and sellers, as well.

FBLA Officers: Kay Conroy, V-pres.; Dick Johnson, pres.; Penni Still, secretary; and Jim Rosand, comptroller.

Due to the co-operation and work of these students FBLA quickly became an active, worthwhile, club.

Variety Key to Girls' Club Activities

The annual Mothers' Tea was "In a Japanese Garden", featuring a Japanese Teahouse and Mount Fuji-yama.

Kathy Hack modeled a truly appropriate Japanese style gown during the style show at the Mothers' Tea.

Variety was the key to this year's Girls' Club activities. The Board was able to organize two tolo's and two glamour and career assemblies. The Fall assembly featured Peterson's School of Business, and Nancy Taylor Charm School. In the Spring, the Washington State Dairy Princess spoke to the girls. Her assembly on physical fitness and beauty tips was really a success. The Mothers' Tea was the highlight of many girls' efforts in this active organization.

"Prairie Wolf Review" Improves Coverage

The journalism class, taught by Mr. Riehl, has done a competent job this year producing our school newspaper, the "Prairie Wolf Review," under the editorship of Linda Matthews and Penny Still.

This is the second year our paper has been published by the "Port Angeles Evening News" in their off-set type of print. Through use of this method, we can enjoy a more interesting paper featuring action pictures and actual journalistic techniques.

A session in instructive criticism with Scooter Chapman of the Evening News staff, a series on student drinking including a panel discussion with various community leaders, and a radio survey series were highlights for this year's journalism staff.

F.F.A. members display the hard earned rewards they won at the many fairs they attended throughout the state.

Money raising projects for F.F.A. included selling refreshments at all games and at the festival.

The F.F.A. had a successful year in meeting their goals. The new parliamentary procedure and public speaking team went to the district meet. The boys learned agricultural techniques with their crops and their tractor work on Mrs. Rhodefer's field. As a reward for their hard work, three boys were honored. Bob Schneider went to the national convention, Alan Millet went to the state convention, and Jay Lancaster was named Star State Dairy Farmer.

The girls collected clothes for needy Appalachian children and had cookie sales to raise money for CARE. To finish the year's activities, they gave a punch party to present awards and to make plans for next year.

F.H.A. members sorted clothes to be donated to the "Save the Children Federation".

Working along with the adult committee, the student committee helped raise needed funds to bring another foreign student to Sequim. Members of the committee were: Brenda Smith, Duane Dahl, Fran Sanford, Roxie Trotter, Mike McCrorie, Bonnie Robb, Becky McClurken, Craig Smith, and Wayde Watters.

Rafael and María Accentuate Variety

Rafael enjoyed his class in advanced biology since his future plans include study in the field of botany.

Sponsored by the American Field Service, Rafael Vaamonde-Rivas came to Sequim High School as this year's foreign student. He was eager to make friends, and became football manager soon after he arrived.

Rafael supported the school by working on the seafood dinner to raise funds for another foreign student. In the spring, he turned out for baseball and made many friends. In June, he left Sequim to take a tour of the United States and then returned to his home in Caracas, Venezuela.

The A.F.S. Committee annually sponsors a seafood dinner to support the foreign student program.

Through the efforts of Delta Kappa Gamma of Sequim, Senorita Maria Beatriz Guerra O'Hart from Monterey, Mexico was able to spend six weeks with the Spanish classes at Sequim. Sister of Maria Josefa, who worked as a teacher's aide in 1965, she quickly became a companion to many high school students. Each day, she helped Mrs. Tout in the Spanish department and gave us a very real taste of Mexico and its customs and language. She spoke to us in Spanish and with our help she quickly improved and expanded her knowledge of English. She often participated in English classes, and she grew to know our community well.

A keen sense of humor immediately made Maria Beatriz popular with her classes.

Rafael's assembly on his homeland proved to be one of the most interesting of the year.

Making corrections on our "temas", Maria Beatriz refined our use of Spanish.

Without the many hours of time and effort expended by the makeup and stage crew, Oklahoma would never have been a success.

"Oh what a beautiful morning . . ."

"It's a scandal, it's an outrage, how a girl gets a husband today."

"You're driving Laurie?"

Rehearsals were undoubtedly the most trying part, and probably the most memorable part of the operetta.

Work, Tears, Fun, Luck, Success

"I'm a-lookin' . . ."

"Out of my dreams, and into the hush of falling shadows."

"Well! I'll be side-gaited"

"Oklahoma," the greatest musical success Sequim High School has ever seen, played six performances in April and May. And, "Oklahoma" received five consecutive standing ovations. Through the combined efforts of Mr. Wilson, director, the music department, Thespians, and the entire student body, the operetta earned over $1,000.00 for the ASB general fund. The singing was good, the music great, the acting superior, the rehearsals exhausting, and the product -- success. Perhaps the most rewarding thing about the production was the complete co-operation, and enthusiasm contributed by everyone. Only through the efforts of many, many, people was "Oklahoma" the outstanding success which it was.

Festival Co-ordinates

The 72nd Annual Sequim Irrigation Festival was a sunny success. Old Sol co-operated and we didn't see any rain. Queen Sherry, and Princesses Laurel and Judy graced all of the many events. Traditionally the celebration was opened with the Queen's Coronation. Sherry inaugurated the activities which included the kiddies parade, playday, and Oklahoma on Friday.

PRINCESS JUDY ROBBINS

Sequim's Festival Royalty, Judy, Sherry, and Laurel, and Rhododendron Queen, Cathy Balcom, graced the Saturday afternoon activities.

Community Activities

Saturday sported the Grand parade. This year's parade attracted record breaking crowds. One of our largest parades, it featured floats and bands from many neighboring towns. Saturday afternoon activities included a logging show and demolition derby. Many school organizations took advantage of the large crowds to earn money for their projects. The 72nd Festival came to a close Sunday afternoon but the royalty, their floats and the band traveled to many neighboring celebrations to promote Sequim.

Some local loggers showed their skill at an exciting log rolling contest.

Special guests, Gertrude, and J.P. Patches, captivated the children at the logging show.

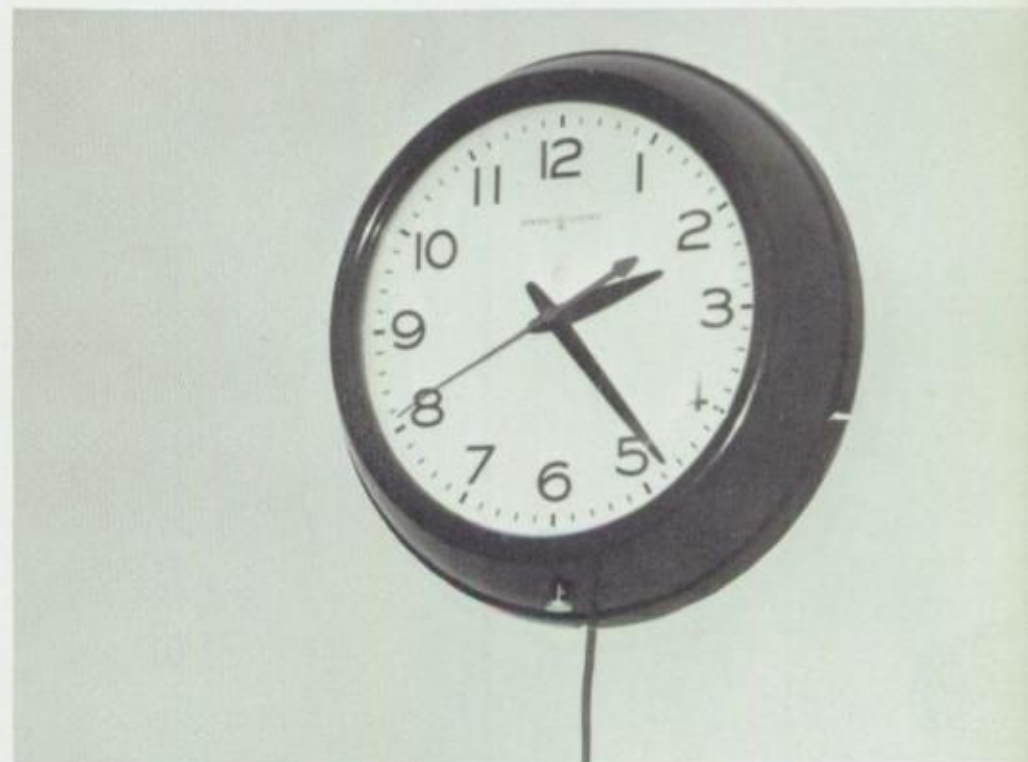

SPORTS

To all of the many students who participate in sports, the word means more than "games."

Sports involve many things: turnout—cheering—defeat—victory—sportsmanship. Sports develop the values, skills and personalities of today's teen-ager.

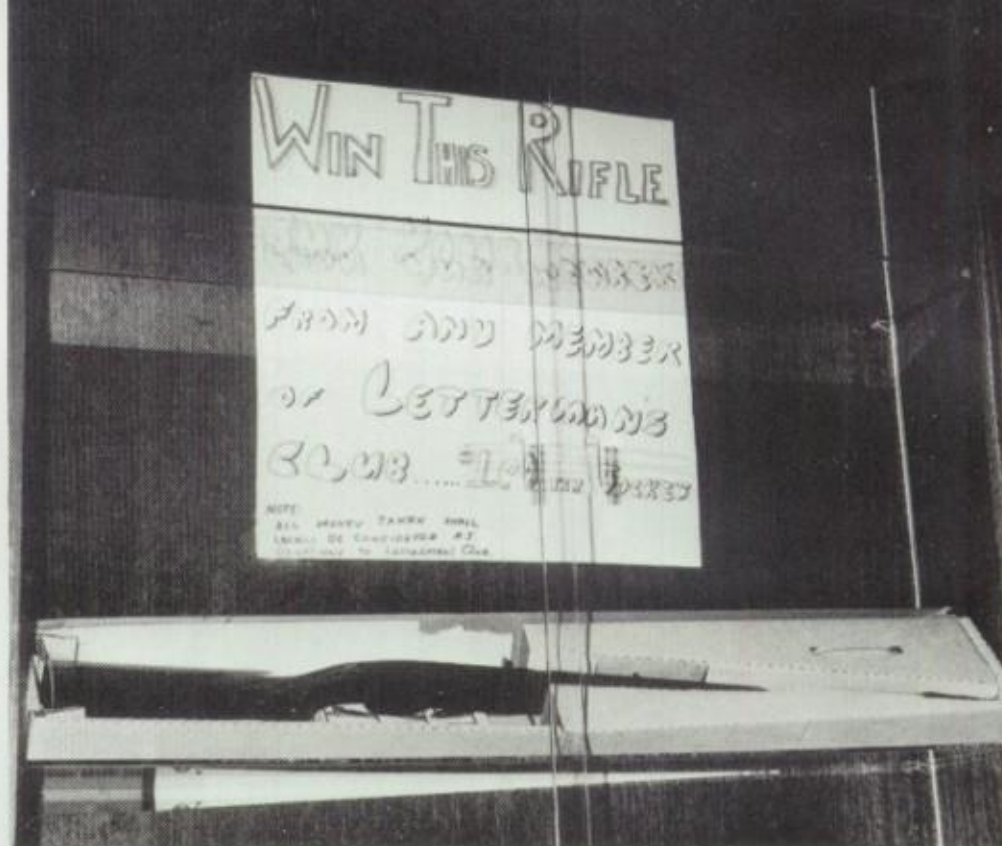

They add to our knowledge and our progress.

Members of Lettermen's Club were kept busy selling "snow cones" at the festival.

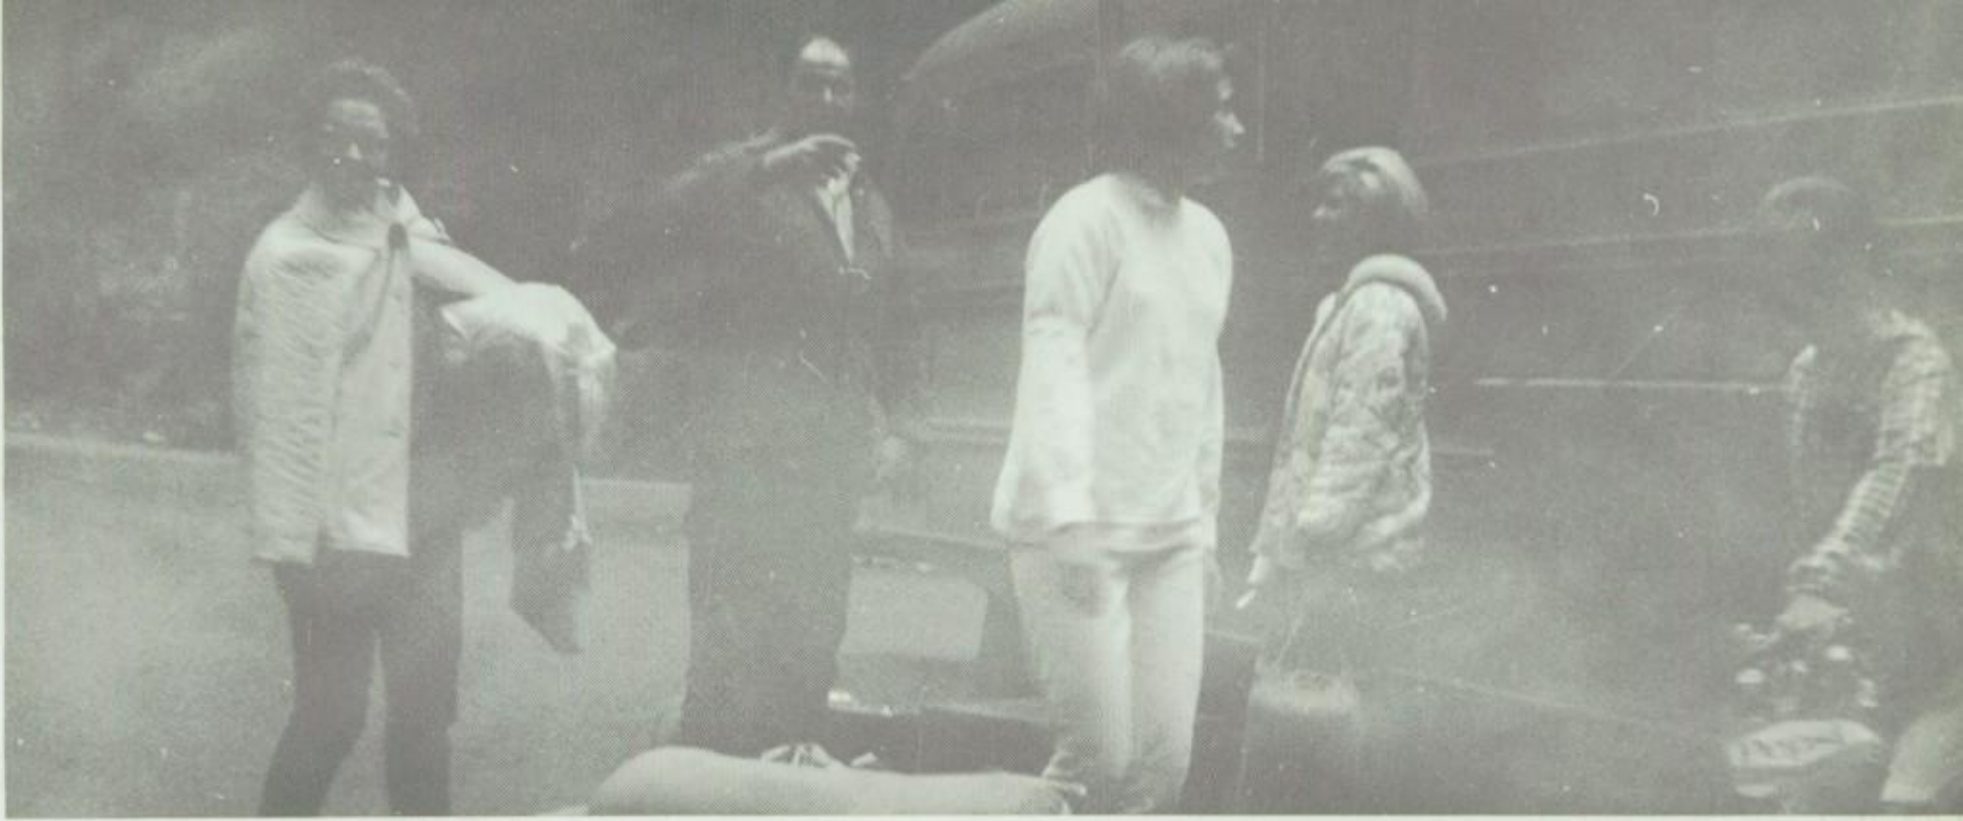

President Steve Smith, with the assistance of Secretary-treasurer Mike McCrorie, conducted a meeting during which lettermen decided on money making projects.

Raffling off a 30.06 rifle was one of the many activities the Lettermen's Club used to raise money for blazers.

Lettermen and G.A.A.

This winter, the Lettermen's Club bought blazers to be used by all lettermen in all sports. To help pay for this, they had several money raising projects. The two most profitable of these were a raffle during the festival giving away a 30.06 rifle and selling snow cones during the festival activities. In honor of their hard work in the organization and in their sports, the Lions Club gave a dinner for all lettermen at the Three Crabs with the head coach from Seattle University as the guest speaker.

They also had a singles and doubles badminton tournament. G.A.A. encourages participation in athletics. For the first time, 9th grade girls joined in G.A.A. activities and play-days.

Enthusiastic Pep Squad Promotes Team Spirit

The Sequim High School Pep Club, for the first time in many years, got the support necessary to become a strong active force in our school. The common appearance of the bright Pep Club uniforms greatly increased attendance at the games. With the help of Miss Millner, the newly formed drill team worked up several routines and provided half-time entertainment at several games. In addition to developing a new constitution of its own, the Pep Club proposed an amendment to the A.S.B. Constitution stating that all cheerleaders must be members of Pep Club.

In their football uniforms of purple and white with gold lettering are cheerleaders, Jeanette Echterkamp, Peggy Kjerulf, Jannyce Heaton, Celeste Kardonsky, Head cheerleader, Sherry Wood, and Brenda Jones.

August 24, forty-seven high school boys showed up for football uniforms, at the first turn-out session for the '66 season. And forty-one guys stuck out the entire season. With renewed spirit they pulled through with four concise victories.

There were twenty-five underclassmen in the ranks this year, and many will return next year after gaining much experience and knowledge.

The Sequim Wolves finished the season with a 4-4 record. Although they out-scored their opponents by 121 points, the team suffered three narrow defeats. But our boys completed the season with a roaring victory over Forks — 52-7.

With the help and guidance of Head Coach, Ed McGuire, and his Assistants, Ken Lisk and Rusty Davis, the team never said, "die". Their final victories were a deserving testimony to their determination.

Wolves Battle Strong Opponents

As the season opened, the prospects looked good for the Wolves. But soon problems depleted the team. The team worked hard throughout the season, and at times their efforts were rewarded. If the Wolves had had a few breaks in their favor, they would have been strong contenders. The four seniors, two juniors, and four sophomores drilled hard on shooting and teamwork throughout their turn-outs. Although their success was not great, the team and coaches gained much knowledge and valuable experience. The four and sixteen record doesn't show the fine playing the team did at times. Building for next year, Coach Rhiehl played many sophomores in the latter part of the season.

Thinclads Gained Top Position on Peninsula

Mike McCrorie, Pete Holden and Mike Kitchen helped compose the javelin hurling squad.

After only the second year of turnout, Sequim's track squad gained a high position of respect on the Olympic Peninsula. Sequim's team was defeated only once throughout the season. After being beaten by Lakeside they still remained champions on the North Olympic Peninsula. The squad was small but persevered. They worked hard to make the entire school proud of their accomplishments.

Richard Wiggins and Allen Millet made the final effort to clear the last hurdle.

Boys' and Girls' Tennis Teams Worked Hard to Develop Skill and Endurance

Boys' Tennis Team: Back: Ed Flick, Dave Mayfield, Jeff Gaston, Glenn Fisher. Front: Mark Farnsworth, Royden Robb, Roger Hull.

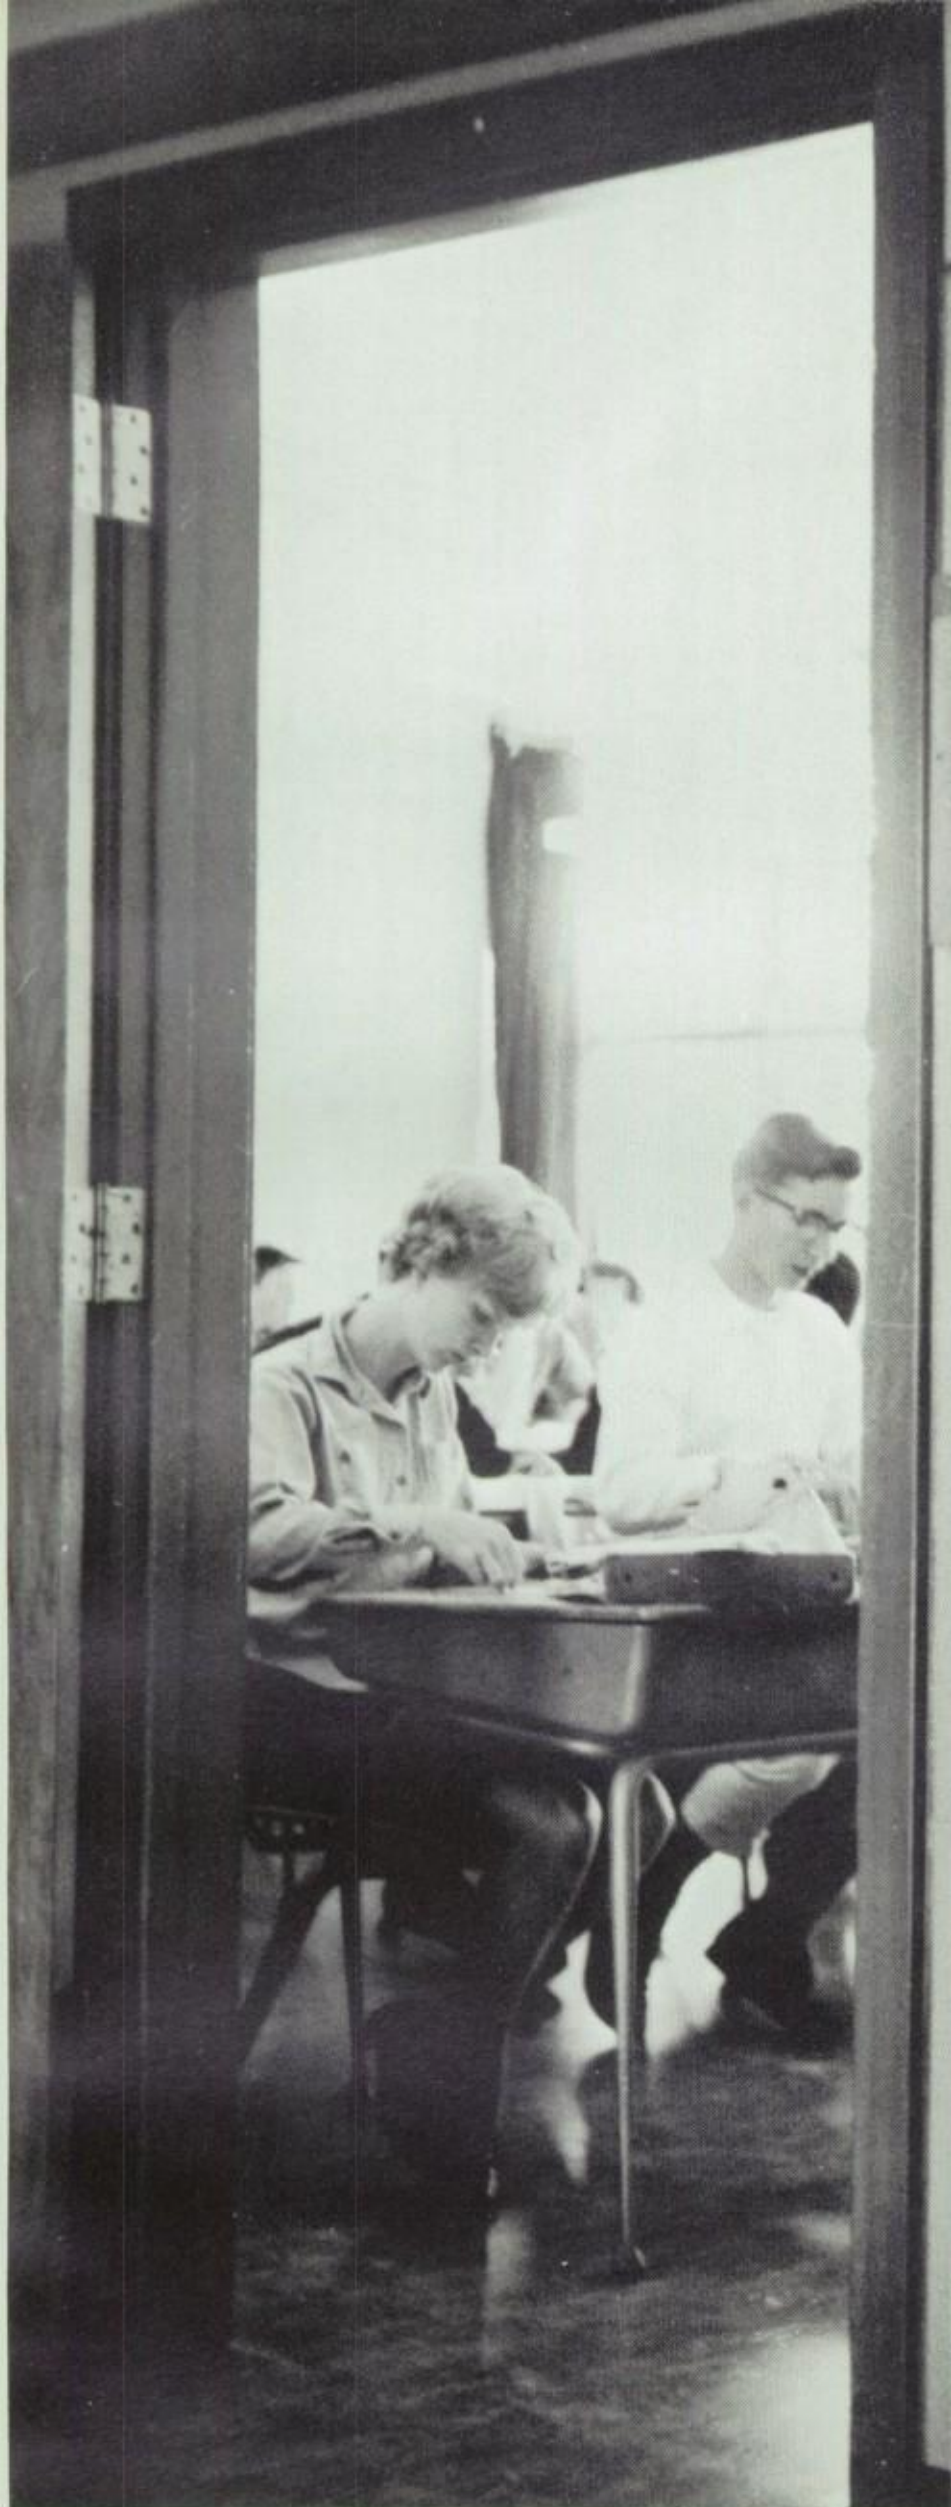

Tennis, the gentlemen's game, takes a lot more than a gentlemen's skill and endurance. The Boys' squad worked long hours perfecting serves and drives. Tennis is an enjoyable sport however, and all the boys had a lot of fun. Next year should be an even better season for the team as six of the seven members should be returning. Only one senior supported the squad and Ed played number one position all season.

Girls' Tennis Team: Back: Crystal Sorensen, Liane Agostine, Nancy Nygard, Ginger Blore. Front: Carol Blore, Pam Livingston, Sandy York, Peggy Kjerulf.

The girls get into the gentlemen's game too. This year the girls' tennis team had a considerably larger squad than in previous years. However, quantity doesn't always make quality. Many of the new members had never played tennis before. The experience should come in handy next year however, and maybe after this years practice they can better their record. Regardless of their losses the girls had a lot of fun and were always good sports.

Annual Challenged Junior High Staff

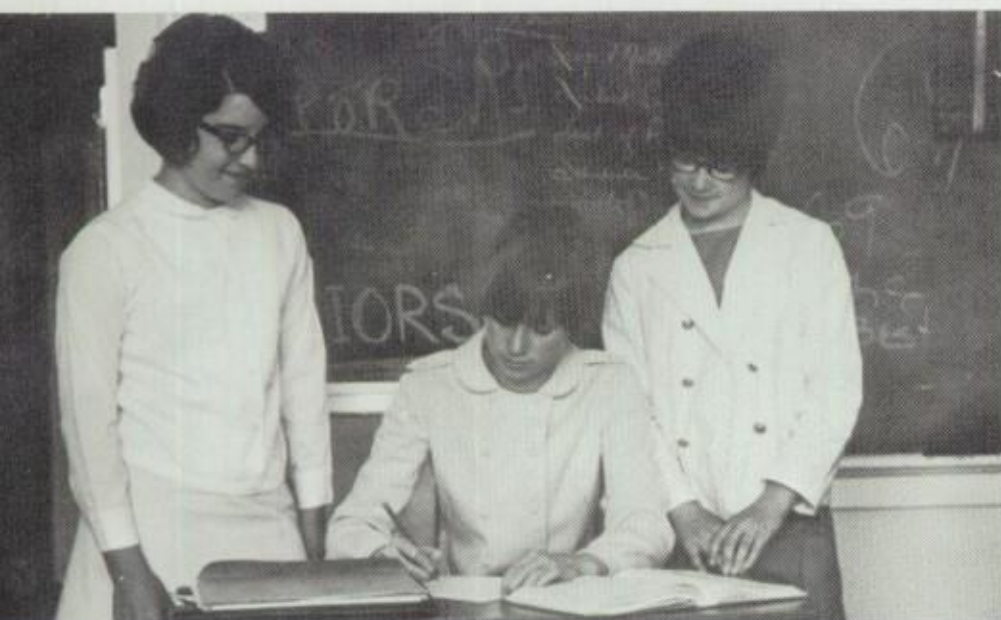

J.H. Editor, Ellen Heath, planned pictures needed to complete the deadline.

The success of an annual always depends on new innovations in layouts and pictures schemes. This years' Junior High Annual staff brought in new ideas which added to the uniqueness of the book. The '67 staff gained a lot of experience which will benefit the high school staff next year, and we had a lot of fun.

Judy Teitzel, Junior High Sales Manager, "balanced the books" keeping track of all sales and payments.

An annual wouldn't be complete without salesmen. Chris Handley, Julie Lancaster, and Donna Cox worked hard to promote sales.

Cheerleaders Urge Team to Victory

Combining various ideas and skills, the Cheerleaders worked together to promote strong team support all year. Into the year 1967 was born the Junior High School mascot, Burrump-Bump, officially named by the Junior High Faculty.

White wool sweaters and knee-socks worn during football season were exchanged for more appropriate outfits for basketball.

Cubs Roar Through Second Undefeated Season

The boys soon learned that practice pays and work is worth it when they beat their first opponents, Forks.

Powerful Freshmen Charge Through Near Perfect Season

The ninth grade Cubs finished their season triumphantly recording only two defeats. Competition was keen but the outstanding defensive and offensive abilities of the varsity squad proved to be more than enough to beat the majority of the freshmen teams on the Peninsula.

Freshmen grab for the ball as the gun opens the game.

The cheerleaders and team watched apprehensively as Gordon O'Dell moves the ball down the court.

Eighth-Graders Develop Promising Skills

Seventh Graders Gain Practice and Experience

The seventh graders experienced a fair season this spring, finishing with a 4-4 record. They were able to practice their new skills, and they gained much valuable experience. The young Cubs worked hard and had a lot of fun. They should prove to be tough competitors next season.

At left: Tim Kardonsky stretches for a successful lay-in.

The relay requires not only speed, but accuracy in passing the baton.

Track Encourages Individual and Team Efforts

Individuals worked hard to better records set by their opponents.

Throughout their second season, the Junior High tracksters proved themselves formidable opponents. Although they lacked some depth they were able to accumulate many points during their track meets. Many individual records set last year were exceeded this year through personal efforts.

"Up and over" is the goal for high jumpers and pole vaulters.

Freshmen Debuted In Their Annual Follies

"The Dating Game" was perhaps the most successful of all the acts.

Square dancing takes skill but it's still a lot of fun.

The class of 70 "astounded" the Senior High Student Body with their presentation of "unique talent." A fashion show, a look at the dating game, and a trip to Camp Kookamunga, proved to be highlites of this years Freshmen Follies. The freshmen ended the program with a tribute to the Seniors of '67.

Even the faculty got into the act, in this presentation of mathematical wizardry.

As the Door Closes

As I close up shop on an annual session, on the years end, on high school days, I can't help looking back over the three years which I spent on the annual staff, at the progress which the staff has made, at the things which all of us have learned.

As you close the back flap on this annual, as you close the door on high school, other doors and new opportunities open for us all. I and the entire Greywolf staff only hope that this annual will serve as a memory book of the many activities, events, and happenings which took place throughout the school year, 1966-67.

I would like to extend my sincerest thanks to the people listed below; they are the individuals who made this annual possible. But first, I would like to extend an extra-special thanks to our advisor, Mr. R. F. Schlaffman. Without his patience, and understanding, there never would have been a "Greywolf '67".
